

EUROPEAN POLICE OFFICE / INTERPOL

Headquarters: Simone Pavia 73

Flag: Italy, Milan

Contact Information: 52°05' 34" N, 4°16'53E

Judicial summons

Upon request from Interpol,

Please act in accordance with the written instructions of Mr. Jürgen Stock, Director-General of Interpol Office and Head of the Minor Protection Brigade. Reference Number: 160422900879.

As a result of the analyses and investigations conducted by our protection team within the computer network, certain traces of your identification data have been discovered through a phone number +63 949 148 2734 belongs to the Philippine. you are being charged on multiple counts:

- CYBERPORNOGRAPHY
- CYBERPORN BLACKMAIL
- EXHIBITIONISM
- INDECENT ASSAULT, SEXUAL ASSAULT, SEXUAL ABUSE AND TRAFFICKING
- CONSULTATION OF PORNOGRAPHIC SITES INVOLVING MINORS

The consultation, possession, or acquisition of images of a pornographic nature involving minors (Article 227-23, paragraph 4 of the Criminal Code).

The second offense under Article 227-25 of the Criminal Code penalizes another category of offenders, namely consumers of child pornography. This offense is punishable by five years of imprisonment and a fine of €100,000. This offense corresponds to the implementation of European Directive No. 2011/92/EU of December 13, 2011, aimed at combating the sexual exploitation of children, through the law of August 5, 2013. Hence, the possession of child pornography must be punishable in all Member States.

Cyber extortion and online sextortion are criminal offenses under applicable national law. Law-enforcement authorities may pursue the matter across jurisdictions where applicable.

You will be registered as a sex offender by all authorities throughout Europe and included in the European Sex Offender Register.

Yours sincerely,

International Office for Cyber Surveillance

info.ec3.gouv@maillo.com

INTERPOL / Federal Police

